

DANTES Services Workshop

Pensacola, FL

17-19 August 2004

Military Installation Voluntary Education Review

MIVER

American Council on Education

MIVER

Established in 1991 to provide a systematic review process to:

“Assess the quality of on-base voluntary education programs and assist in the improvement of these program through recommendations to institutions, installations, and the services.”

MIVER

Resources

- MIVER Orientation and Guidelines
- MIVER Principles of Good Practice for VolEd Programs on Military Installations
- MIVER Principles of Good Practice for Institutions Providing VolEd Programs on Military Installations

MIVER

MIVER Governing Board

Meets once a year toward the end of the Fiscal Year.

American Council on Education

MIVER

Process

Self-study

Pre-site visit

On-site visit

MIVER

On-Site Visit

Sunday arrival

Late afternoon reception

Monday

Installation commander in-brief

ESO Briefing

Meet with installation and institutional reps

Tuesday

Meet with installation and institutional reps

Adjourn to draft preliminary findings

Wednesday

Out-brief to installation commander

MIVER

Final Report

Draft sent to ESO and service headquarters

ESOs and service reps respond with “Error in Fact Report”

Final Report sent to ESO and service headquarters

MIVER

Trends

- ◆ Inadequate assessment of educational needs
(Adult family members rarely included)
- ◆ Inadequate or too few classrooms
- ◆ Absence of professional educational counselors
- ◆ Lack of an advisory body
- ◆ Very little or no cooperative planning with installation leadership

How to Contact Us...

American Council On Education

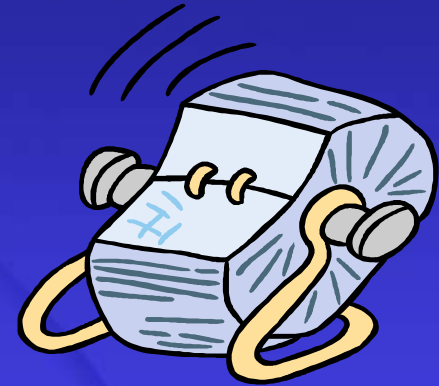

Military Programs

One Dupont Circle, Suite 250

Washington, DC 20036

202-939-9470

Mileval@ace.nche.edu

Dr. Bill Xenakis

202 939 9723 bill_xenakis@ace.nche.edu

American Council on Education

How to Contact Us...

American Council On Education

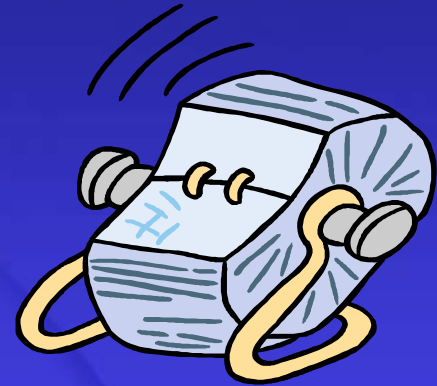

Corporate Programs

One Dupont Circle, Suite 250

Washington, DC 20036

202-939-9434

Credit@ace.nche.edu

Nancy Musick, Reviews

Richard Kraus: Transcripts

American Council on Education